

I'm not very good at sharing my testimony. I've asked God to help me to share what he has done in my life, how he has set me free and delivered me from the bondage and oppression the Devil and his demons had on my life but I always seem at a loss for words. I can't really remember much, I can't seem to recall all the demons that were cast out of me by the blood of Jesus but I will share what I can remember.

I accepted Jesus Christ as my Lord and Savior just as any child does who grows up in a Christian household, at a young age, and was baptized as well. I think I was 12 years old at the time. As I got older I grew farther apart from God and backslid hardcore when I moved out of my parent's home. I started to drink, smoke weed, get tattoos and fornicate as many non-believers do. I lived for and in my flesh instead of living for God. I had dealt with anxious thoughts and feelings for most of my life and instead of turning to God to set me free from this oppression, I went to a doctor who diagnosed me with general anxiety and put me on a medication for it and also put me on sleeping pills because I was unable to sleep through the night, the Devil was stealing my peace and rest. I believed the lies that the Devil filled my head with. I was so lost and tired, but still living a life that was far from God. Doing all these things opened so many doors, but the demons inside me told me that I didn't need God and that I would be fine. Again, filling my head with lies. The demons that I was delivered from loved that I chose to live my life in and for the world. It took a good scare for me to finally open my eyes, Lord forgive me for waiting so long to be delivered and set free. Here comes the good part though, Praise the Lord, God is so good and merciful!!!

I had just gotten married, on a Friday, I had family in town for the wedding so my husband and I went out to celebrate with them. I totally had the intention of drinking all night to celebrate, giving into my flesh once again. Then I drank again the following day, not caring about what the alcohol was doing to my body and being so unwise and drinking while being on medication. Then Sunday came, and I woke up in a panic because of all the alcohol I had. My heart was racing and I had cold sweats. I was so frightened and so angry at myself for drinking. I knew better but I did not choose to do better. Being so afraid that I had harmed my heart by drinking so much I asked my husband to take me to the insta care instead of turning to my healer and redeemer Jesus. They, of course, diagnosed me and prescribed me more medication. However, my racing heart did not calm down and I was so scared. I finally broke down and called my mom because I knew she would pray for me, and all I wanted was some peace. I asked her if I could go over the next day so she could pray for me and she was so kind and said "Yes! Of course, you can!". I went over the next day, wanting a miracle, I wanted to be set free and to stop living my life the way I was living it. As soon as I got into my parent's house I started to cry when I hugged my mom. I was so full of fear, it felt like it was starting to consume every part of me. My mom in return said "Let's go pray Mija", so we went into one of the bedrooms and as she started to pray for me I started to cry and the demons started to manifest. Fear, worry, doubt, and of course anxiety had the strongest hold on me. My mom prayed in the name of Jesus to cast the demons out of me and as they left I began to vomit bile. This continued for the next hour as she demanded to know what demons were oppressing me and then cast them out in the name of Jesus. I felt better, but not entirely free. I asked my mom if I could go over again the next day and of course, she said yes, thank God for moms and their prayers!! I had trouble sleeping that night, once again worried about my heart and my health instead of trusting God. As soon as I got to my parent's house my mom took me into the room again to pray because I had told her about how I had a hard time sleeping and woke up with sweats. As soon as we went into the room to pray the demons that were still in me began to manifest and this time around my sister and brother began to pray for me as well. I was delivered (from what I can remember, I can't seem to recall all of them) from the spirit of death, anger, guilt, resentment, fear, anxiety, doubt, worry, despair, alcoholism, drugs, fornication, Leviathon, Jezebel, Lucifer, self-hate, vanity, insecurity, lies, secrets, deceit, lust, strife, (and others I can't recall at the moment). As they left I threw up bile, coughed and the demons also screamed as they left. I was delivered from all the fear that filled me, I was delivered from wanting to live in my flesh. The Holy Spirit filled the room and my mom, my sister and I began to speak in tongues (I hadn't spoken in tongues in years but God is so good); glorifying God and all his goodness! All glory be to God, my deliverer, savior, and healer!! I never want to go back to living that life, a life so far from God, and with his help, I will never go back! With the help of my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, I will live my life for him, glorifying his name with every breath I breathe!! I am so set free that I wanted to throw away everything in my home that may have opened a door to the devil and his demons. I also threw away all the things that I smoked weed with, I threw away all the medications that had been prescribed to me by doctors. I am free! I am so grateful to God for what he has done in my life and will continue to do! I am now praying and reading my bible every morning because God has put a longing in me to get to know him more, I read and pray even when my flesh does not want to because I know I need it to stay close to God and to know how to live my life for and in him! I continue to pray every day that God will guard and keep my heart, my life, my mind, my soul, and every part of me so I will never turn my back on him again! I was lost, but now I am found, I was blind, but now I see, I was oppressed but now I am set free!! All glory be to God!! My Lord and Savior!!
